A Boston newspaper gives an explanation of Mr. Burlingame's position, about whose status as Minister to China there have been some doubts. According to that authority, he has netually rein China, and has accepted the mission to all the Treaty Powers tendered him by the Chinese Government. In doing this, it is stated, he has acted upon the advice of all the foreign ministers resident in China. He is now on his way to Washington, by way of San Francisco. It is stated that, wholly apart from this mission, he intended to resign in the spring and suttle in California. The appointment is highly howerable to him, and in garments fitted his heather, and a suit of colors. A Correct Account of the Mysterious Female Man.

Truth Stranger than Fiction, if not More So.

About the year 1855 there moved to this village a family by the name of Burn-ham, consisting of Dr. M. L. Burnham, his wife and two children, a daughter aged sixteen and a son three or four years younger. Dr. Burnham was a man of some property and the highest respectability. The family soon became active members of our village society the documents. ability. The family soon became active members of our village society, the doctor being an active member and one of the deacons of the Congregational church. Dr. Burnham was a well read physician, and did some practice in addition to keeping a drug store, in which his daughter Ellen assir'ed him as a clerk for the first two years of the doctor's residence here. Miss Ellen Burnham was by no means a beautiful girl. Her hair and means a beautiful girl. Her hair and eyes were dark; features regular, but rather coarse and masculine; form tall, square shouldered and wanting in that grace of outline that inspires admiration. If a stranger were tempted to look at her the second time, it would be from surprise at the strong, masculine appear ance, unnatural to a woman, especially one so young. Miss Burnham was not a favorite with our young men, nor did she seem anxious to be. Her time, outside of her domestic duties, was devoted to instrumental

The only satisfaction they could get out of Powell was that his Doctor requested Powell to accompany him, and immediately went to Chicago, where he found his daughter dressed in a suit of clothes which Mr. Powell had had made for his brotker. Mrs. Powell From Broadhead (Wis.) Independent, Feb. 3. informed him that she was not a women, and would no longer try to act the part of one. The doctor insisted upon an examination. At length, to satisfy her father, she consented that the late Dr. Brainard should examine her. Dr. Brainard did so and informed the father

Brainard did so and informed the father that his daughter was not a female, and had done the beat thing to be done in changing her attire. After much solicitation, Ellen permitted her father to examine her and satisfy himself that she was not a woman. Dr. Burnham then procured a situation for her, under the name of Edgar Burnham, in the wholesale drug house of J. H. Reed & Co., in whose employ he remained one year. During the time he roomed and alept with a young man by the name of Andrews, now doing business in Crosby's Opera House block. He also became Opera House block. He also became engaged to a young lady on State street, the daughter of his landlady.

We frequently visited young Burnham at his room on Washington street, being plished. Her life for the four years subsequent to 1856 was not unlike that of other young ladies of the place. She had a large class, mostly of young ladies, whom she instructed in instrumental music. In the fall of 1858 a young man by the name of Powell came here, and was employed as principal of the school. Powell residue. worked by an expert, will shear a sheep in three minutes.

The Buffalo Courier states that there were 154,000 barrels of lager beer and ale made in that city during 1867, yielding $1,600,000 to the brewers.

During the summer he became intimate with the family of the State street lady, who was entirely ignorant of the story of her lover's life. We have it from the best and the family. The only surprise excited on account of it was surprise at the family of the young lady—that Burnham was a devoted lover, and, even after he removed to Broadhead, in the family of the young lady—that Burnham was a devoted lover, and, even after he removed to Broadhead, corresponded regularly twice a week with his betrothed, and paid her visits of two or three days' duration. She had claimed as legatee, and not as the heir of Dr. Clark, and the suit was re-sisted on the ground that an "adulterine bastard" could not, under the laws of Louisians, he made a legatee. The de-cision in her favor settled only the one case, and there were hundreds of others, all waiting to be brought up by appeal all waiting to be brought up by appeal to have the decisions below reversed. The cause argued in court to-day was but the second one of these cases, and the counsel for the appellee again raised the question of legitimacy, alleging that Mrs. Gaines, in her former suit, not having claimed as heir, had not repited legitimacy in her hill, and hence the point had not been properly before the court

PRIZE No. 1.—The celebrated RALEIGH MINERAL SPRINGS, situated on the confines of Raleigh, late county soat of Shelby county, Tenn, nine miles northeast of Memphis, and two miles from We'ls' station, on the Memphis and Louisville railroad. These Springs are six in number, of various mineral and medicinal qualities, and are visited every summer by thousands of seekers of health and pleasure, from all quarters of the country. They are within a few stens of the village of Raleigh, in a beautiful valley, and alse within a few hundred feet of Wo f river, which wind a around the base of the cominence on which the village of Raleigh is situated, and empties into around the base of the eminence on which the village of Ralieis is situated, and empties into the "F theref Waters" at Memphis. Numerous remarkable cures of various disease have been experienced by adjourners at this health-inspiring retreat, and the present proprietor, Col. J. M. Coleonan, can produce hundreds of certificates of cures in cases which had been entirely given over by medical skill. The ground currounding the Springs, and in fact the entire village of Raleigh, riess to an eminence of pure air, and is as remarkable for its healthfulnes as beauty of location. The Springs are in five order, never failing, and are designated as follows: Iwo Miles South of Mamphis, on the Horn

Marble Spring, Box Spring, Magnolia Spring,

Arsenic Spring, Sulphur Spring,

The place has never been visited by epidemie of any kind, and peculiarly characteristic of its healthfulness is the longevity of the inhabitants. The oldest citizens of Shelby county are residents of Raleigh.

The Springs are as much resorted to by pleasure-scelers as by invalide, owing to beauty of seenery and various artificial as well as natural attrictions. Connected with the Springs are a Pavilion, Ladies' Bowling Alley, Rustic Arbors, Reading Saloon, Gents' Bowling Alley, Saloon, Billiard Room, Gymnastums, Refreshment Tables, etc., while Wolf river affords excellent Boating and Fishing.

The ground accompanying the Springs, in the above scheme and included in the First Price, is fifteen acres in extent, everlooking the valley, and affords, in addition to a magnificent site for a grand hotel and other buildings, splendid facilities for a park, premenados, etc. An analysis of the several Springs, by distinguished medical men, shows that they are unsurpassed in mineral and curative properties by any in the United States. There is no reason then why Raleish should not become as famous as Saratoga, Sharon or Lecanon, and as largely patronized. It needs only capital and enterprise to accomplish this end.

A charter is before the State Legislature for the incorporation of the Springs, and a movement has been inaugurated looking to direct rail communication with Memphis.

For this prize, $20,000 was recontly offered, which was declined, in order that the above scheme may be fully carried out.

PRIZE No. 2.—The cleanant COUNTRY MANSION HOUSE AND LOT RESIDENCE of Col. J. M. Caleman is within a few yar s of the Springs. The house is in first class order, contains ten rooms, and is beautifully embowered in hyubbery. The lot is well fenced and ornamented with fine shade and fruit trees, and affords all necessary outhouses, cisterns, etc. It is midway between the village and Spring Valley, on the main promenade.
